

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Product Manager position at J.P. Morgan. I have over 5 years of experience in product management, and I have a proven track record of success in developing and delivering high-quality products.

At Dell Technologies, I was responsible for the development and launch of a new cloud-based contact center CRM transition from Oracle IDD to Salesforce. I worked closely with a team of developers and engineers to define the product vision, create the product roadmap, and deliver a product that met the needs of our customers. The system was successfully launched on time and within budget, and it has been well-received by our customers.

At BlueStacks, I was responsible for the development and launch of a new cloud-based gaming platform. I worked closely with a team of developers and engineers to define the product vision, create the product roadmap, and deliver a product that met the needs of our users. The platform was successfully launched on time and within budget, and it has been well-received by our users.

At Infilect, I was responsible for the development and launch of a new mobile app that helps users capture and manage visual data. I worked closely with a team of developers and engineers to define the product vision, create the product roadmap, and deliver a product that met the needs of our users. The app was successfully launched on time and within budget, and it has been well-received by our users.

I am confident that I have the skills and experience necessary to be successful in this role. I am a highly motivated and results-oriented individual with a strong work ethic. I am also a team player and I am able to work effectively with cross-functional teams. I am confident that I would be a valuable asset to your team.

I have attached my resume for your review. I would be grateful for the opportunity to discuss my qualifications in more detail. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Shivam Bajaj
